

COMMUNITIES IN CRISIS

More than half of Illinois cities get “F” grades for local pensions

Park Forest

2019 Grade: F

In 2003, Park Forest’s police, fire and municipal pension funds already faced a shortfall of $11.9 million. That meant every Park Forest household, on average, was on the hook for $1,316 in future taxes just to eliminate that shortfall.

Park Forest began contributing more money – taxpayer dollars – to pensions in an attempt to make the plans healthier. Over the next 16 years, city contributions increasingly crowded out spending for public safety, roads and other core services.

	2003	2019	Change
City (taxpayer) contributions to pensions	$0.92 million	$4.15 million	Up 4.5X
Share of city general budget for pensions	7.3%	17.6%	Up 2.4X

Despite the ramp-up in city payments over those 16 years, Park Forest’s pension debts didn’t decrease. Instead, they jumped by 4.3 times!

By 2019, the shortfall in Park Forest’s police, fire and municipal pension funds totaled $51.3 million. That means each Park Forest household, on average, is now on the hook for $5,976 in debt.

Everyone loses under Park Forest’s pension crisis:

Taxpayers are tapped out

Park Forest residents are paying more and more into a broken system. City taxpayers in 2019 contributed 4.5 times more to pensions than in 2003, yet city debts are 4.3 times larger.

Pension costs are devouring the city’s budget

Park Forest pension contributions have grown to consume 17.6% of the city’s budget, up from 7.3% in 2003. That’s crowded out spending on public safety, roads and other core services.

Park Forest worker retirement security is collapsing

The health of Park Forest’s local pension plans have worsened despite those increased taxpayer contributions. In 2003, the plans had 74.8% of the money they needed. By 2019, that had dropped to just 51.0%.

Park Forest’s crisis will only get worse

Park Forest has fewer active government workers available to help pay for a growing number of retirees. In 2003, there were 1.30 active workers for every pensioner. By 2019, there were 0.97 active workers per pensioner.

2019 GRADE

2003 GRADE

Park Forest receives an "F" grade for its local pension crisis

Local officials handcuffed by state pension mandates.

Wirepoints quantified the negative impact of local pensions by examining the finances of Illinois' 175 largest cities from 2003 to 2019. The analysis was based on ten equally-weighted metrics. Cities were given an A through F grade based on a 100-point scale (10 points per metric).*

Park Forest received an "F" grade in 2019. The city's total score dropped from 73 in 2003 to 51 in 2019, a decline of 22 points.

Park Forest was one of 102 cities to receive an "F" grade in 2019.
